MYCON General Contractors to Build Addition to Woodcreek Church in Richardson, Texas

McKinney, TX, March 9, 2017 – MYCON General Contractors has been awarded the preconstruction and general contracting services to build a new $6.3 million educational addition for Woodcreek Church, according to John Riggins, MYCON’s vice president of office and industrial.

Located on the church’s 27.1-acre property at 3400 E. Renner Road just east of Highway 190, the 28,654 sf expansion will be on the south side of the existing facility. This expansion represents the second phase of the church’s master plan and is the centerpiece of its Raise Up campaign. The two-story building will include 13 classrooms with eight bathrooms, an interior glassed-in playground, two large meeting areas with stages, sound and lighting systems, and a resource room with storage. In addition, a 5,000 sf versatile activity center will include a basketball court as well as a stage, sound and lighting systems with a seating capacity of up to 250. Plans also call for a prayer garden, refurbishment of the connecting corridor from the auditorium to the new addition and an updated security system.

“We have been involved with Woodcreek since we built their original facility about 10 years ago,” says Riggins. “Woodcreek has achieved significant growth in membership and in their outreach programs over this period, and we are very pleased to have been selected for this expansion.”

Preconstruction activities are completed and groundbreaking occurred at the end of February. Project completion is scheduled for the fall of 2017. GFF, Inc. of Dallas, Texas is the project architect.
