MYCON General Contractors Announces Key Staff Promotions

McKinney, TX, July 11, 2016 – MYCON General Contractors announced today the promotions of six employees to new roles within the company, according to Doug Talley, MYCON’s president.

Lou Arrieta has been promoted to chief estimator. He joined MYCON in 2010 and has more than 30 years of experience in the construction industry. In his new role, Lou will lead the development of his team members, focus on nurturing client relationships and work with senior management on developing business growth strategies while incorporating new technologies and methodologies in the estimating process.

Al Arjona was promoted to senior superintendent. Al began his career with MYCON in 2004 and has been involved in many notable projects in South Texas over the years. As a senior superintendent, Al demonstrates effective leadership, organizational and time-management skills along while proactively managing client relationships.

Kyle Gallagher was promoted to senior project engineer. Kyle began working with MYCON in 2011 as an intern while pursuing his Bachelor of Science degree in construction engineering from the University of North Texas. He joined MYCON in May 2014. Kyle demonstrates a strong commitment to delivering a quality product with an avid attention to detail which are valuable assets to both clients and project teams.

Ryan Stoll, LEED AP BD+C, has been promoted to senior project manager. Ryan joined MYCON as an assistant project manager in 2011 and has quickly risen through the ranks due to his outstanding skills and performance. Ryan holds a Master of Business Administration (MBA) from West Texas A&M University and a Bachelor of Science degree in construction science from Texas A&M University.
