MYCON General Contractors, Inc. Promotes Hayden Tuley to Vice President

College Station, Texas, October 14, 2024 – Dallas-based MYCON General Contractors, Inc. (MYCON) has promoted Central Texas leader Hayden Tuley to Vice President of the company's Special Projects division. In this role, Tuley will ensure MYCON Special Projects continues to excel as a leader in grocery and retail, distribution center, and automation renovations. He will also focus on diversifying the division's portfolio by expanding into new markets, cultivating new clients, and overseeing a broader range of project types.

Based out of MYCON's College Station, Texas office, Tuley's leadership will continue to drive the growth and operational success of the Special Projects division, which plays a critical role in MYCON's overall strategy.

"Hayden's leadership has been instrumental in the growth of our Special Projects division," said Rick Dubec, Partner and Senior Vice President of MYCON. "His ability to manage complex projects while building strong relationships with clients has elevated our operations, and we're confident he'll continue to expand our impact in this next chapter of his career."

After earning his Bachelor of Science degree in Construction Science from Texas A&M University, Tuley began his construction industry career with MYCON in 2012, starting as a project engineer. Since then, he has held various roles, gaining valuable experience across various project types, including special projects, institutional, office, retail, and industrial.
